the co-chairman, Miss Barbara Gray, in every detail—grasses, leaves, cards and the centerpiece. Mrs. Frank Kiefer presented a running commentary on the wide variety of costumes made by the exhibitors.

Mrs. Joseph Kera, Jr., won first place in Class 1, The Carnival, followed by Mrs. Frank Ramsey, second, and Mrs. Waldo Otis, third.

Mrs. Murray captured Class 2, A Night at Monte Carlo.

Mrs. Hilare Ogden was second and Mrs. H. D. Finley, third. Second to Mrs. McCloskey in Class 3 was Mrs. Harold Powell while Mrs. Otis was third. Tying for the sweepstakes award for the most ribbon points were Mrs. Otis and Mrs. Ramsey. Judges were Mrs. J. P. Rousseau, Mrs. Harvard Burleigh and Mrs. John L. Salsbery.

During the business session later at which Mrs. Ogden presided tentative plans were made for the anti-littering campaign, annual project of the club. It was announced that Mrs. McCloskey will conduct a flower arranging workshop at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Garden Center on Leachhard Avenue.

Assisting Mrs. Sarna as hostesses were Mesdames Morris Bourg, J. Cyril Glover, Albert Kuehn, Frank Manning, McCloskey, A. C. Mitchell, Joseph Sarnel, Felix Seagar and P. J. Treutal.

Opinion on Oxford

We have previously expressed our opinion relative to Gov. Ross Barnett's actions relative to the admission of the first negro to the University of Mississippi, and our opinion was that he couldn't win the battle, though perhaps the war.

We have also expressed our opinion of judicial dictation.

This week we are reprinting four articles, two by authors of national renown, dealing with the question. Three are basically on one side, but at least we are publishing the opposite view in the fourth.

As far as the Sea Coast Echo is concerned it has one comment to make: as long as the State of Mississippi was responsible for law and order in Oxford no one got hurt, but when Uncle Sam took over within 12 hours two people were killed and many more injured.

As Waveland votes

The election of officials for Waveland is imminent, but we can see no reason for a change in the current administration, even though we think highly of some of the opponents. For instance Mr. Mel R. Villere is a fine man, and a successful business and in a real fisherman.

Nevertheless we see no reason for any change in the present administration of Waveland even though on occasion we have strongly disagreed with some of their decisions.

To us one thing seems primary: in the current administration doing a good job; and secondarily, but of importance, is the question of how well a group works together. We submit that Waveland's current administration does a good job and works together.

Oct. 17, 1952—Sheriff John Elyot warns that any person living in Mississippi driving an automobile with out-of-state tag may be arrested and made to pay full year's license fee plus 25 per cent penalty.

Oct. 22, 1927—A headline reads: Board of Supervisors of Hancock announces 10 1/2 mills reduction. Four mills were reduced by the state, six and one-half by the county. The story continues that the Echo's investigation reveals county's financial condition all to the good.

Troops in Mississippi: Was It Legal?

Lawrence Says Army Used Without Law-Way Police States Are Born

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The average man, who doesn't take the time to read the fine print or to analyze the legal questions involved in public controversy, probably thinks that a President of the United States has the inherent right to send troops to suppress insurrection and to restore law and order.

It may come as a surprise to the average man, therefore, to note that the constitution does not vest in the President but in Congress alone the power to provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrection and to restore law and order.

The constitution also says that the federal government shall protect each of the states "against domestic violence," but only "on application of the legislature, or of the (state) executive, when the legislature cannot be convened."

Thus, it is necessary to take a careful look at any laws that Congress has actually passed authorizing the use of armed forces in certain contingencies. Excluding law enforcement.

THESE STATUTES are the ones that existed in 1957 when President Eisenhower sent troops to Little Rock, to maintain order and to secure the enforcement of a federal court decree. He was criticized then, just as President Kennedy is being criticized today, for acting without congressional authority.

As this correspondent pointed out at the time of the Little Rock affair, Congress had never provided for this kind of situation then occurring. Neither is there today any law on the statute books or any court decision to cover the circumstances — involving federal troops — that have developed in Mississippi.

Theoretically, US marshals were used in Mississippi as civilians. But actually they were backed up by military forces in a situation of domestic violence.

MR. SCHWEPPE'S article was within a state. In due time arrests could have been made by the marshals for any insurrection with the court decree back, requiring the admission of James Meredith to the university. But they had no authority to punish violations of state law or to suppress violence. This is solely within the jurisdiction of the state.

WHERE IS THE LAW, moreover, that authorizes marshals and troops to escort Meredith around the campus and provide "protection" for him for the full year and a half he will be at the university, as US officials promise will be done? Isn't this really an obligation of the state of Mississippi?

Congress has authorized use of federal troops to enforce federal statutes, but this does not include court decrees. The constitution speaks of the use of troops only to enforce federal laws. There is no mention of court decrees or court orders. The President is obliged to execute federal laws, but there has been no act of Congress ordering desegregation of public schools. The whole controversy has grown out of a court decision, but troops cannot be legally used to enforce it.

Perhaps the most comprehensive study of this whole legal problem has been made by Alfred J. Schweppe of Seattle, who has been chairman of the American Bar Association's House of Delegates. He wrote for the American Bar Association Journal in February 1958 an article which covers exactly the same points in reference to the Little Rock episode as are being made today in the criticisms of what happened in Mississippi. It is significant that President Kennedy in his executive order sending armed forces to Mississippi used exactly the same language and citations of federal statutes as did President Eisenhower.

MR. SCHWEPPE'S article was

Tigers JV's take on Little Hawks tonight

Undefeated and unscathed on in three games, BayHills' junior varsity travels to Hancock North Central tonight in quest of another victory.

The Tiger JV, coached by Wilmer Seymour, has scored 21-0 and 30-0 wins over Pass Christian, and posted a 14-0 decision over Long Beach thus far. The entire JV schedule is played on the road.

Donnie Bilbo, Mike Strong, Lonnie Smith, Jake Morrisette, and Earl Payard have handled the bulk of the scoring to date. The coach calls his boys one of the fastest junior varsity teams he has ever seen.

placed in the Congressional Record of Sept. 25, 1957, by Sen. Eastland, chairman of the Senate Judiciary committee. Mr. Schweppe wrote in his final paragraph:

"Hence, whatever question is taken through the Constitution and the applicable statutes, one ends with the conclusion that, as of now, the President has no lawful power to use military force to carry out federal court decrees rendered under article 5 of the constitution (judicial power provisions)."

Already some doubts are being expressed by champions of integration, too. Thus, the Washington Post, long a leader in the fight against segregation, said in an editorial Thursday that perhaps it would have been wiser to declare martial law—which, of course, the department of justice insists it didn't do. The editorial adds:

"But the average man may say: 'What difference does it make? The purpose is all right anyhow.' For centuries some people have said that 'the end justifies the means.' Yet that's how 'police states' are born, and that's the real reason Moscow is exciting today. For in the Soviet Union there is plenty of racial discrimination, but what the Soviets see now in America is a vindication of their practice of using military means to enforce the edicts of the Kremlin."

Lippmann Says Kennedy Right But Advocates 'Go Slowly'

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The President and the attorney general have done well by the country in their handling of the Mississippi affair. They have used force without bluster, never forgetting that the inevitable wounds must be helped to heal. For myself I feel, as I have not felt since the Cuban fiasco of 1961, that the President has become the accomplished master of the enormous forces he commands. For his reward in Mississippi, he has crushed Gov. Barnett's rebellion and has earned the preponderant assent of leading and enlightened opinion in the South.

The only mistake he made was that in his desire to conciliate the people of Mississippi he trusted the governor too much. He trusted the governor to use the state police force to prevent mob violence. As it turned out, the governor failed to stop the mob from attacking the federal marshals. This was a sordid ending to the doctrine of interposition.

THE DOCTRINE itself has been put forth recurrently for over 150 years. Its original authors were Jefferson and Madison who, in their efforts to nullify the hateful alien and sedition laws passed by the Federalists, drafted resolutions for the state governments of Virginia and Kentucky. The resolutions asserted the right of a state to nullify a law which it considered to be a violation of the constitution.

The resolutions were never acted upon because after Jefferson's election in 1800 the alien and sedition laws were repealed. Nevertheless, in 1803 Chief Justice Marshall in the famous case of Marbury vs. Madison laid down the paramount rule of our constitutional system that "it is emphatically the province and duty of the judicial department to say what the law is."

The idea of interposition required again on Nov. 24, 1832, when the legislature of South Carolina voted to nullify the so-called "Tariff of Abominations," which had been passed by Congress. To this "Ordinance of Nullification" President Andrew Jackson replied in a "proclamation" of Dec. 10, 1832, declaring that "I consider, then, the power to nullify a law of the United States, assumed by one state, incompatible with the existence of the Union."

Since interposition is in effect a secession from the Union, that was the basic issue decided by the Civil War.

THE THEORY of interposition, nullification, and even secession came alive again after 1954 when the supreme court in Brown vs. Board of Education ruled that segregation in public schools is unconstitutional.

My own hope, based on the action of most Southern states from Louisiana to Virginia, is that a policy might be worked out by negotiation which would be based on this principle: that in the Deep South desegregation should begin with the education of the Negro elite of lawyers, doctors, engineers, ministers, teachers, and journalists, and that for the near future the really difficult problems of integrating the co-educational high schools shall not be pressed. Mr. Meredith is a good symbol of such a policy. He is not an adolescent. He is in fact 29, he is married and has a family, and he is a veteran. Quite evidently, he is on the way to being a leader in the delicate relations between the two races in his state.

I know that this approach is contrary to the abstract principle of legal equality. But I believe it deals with the problem of how—with all the deliberate speed that the realities permit—the principle can eventually be carried out.

YOU MAY NOT AGREE with what General Edwin A. Walker says. You may feel that he should not have gone to Mississippi after the demonstrations had begun, just as you may feel that the Freedom Riders from the North should not have carried their demonstrations into the South.

General Walker's concern over our present policy of preparing to merge our military establishment with a U. N. Peace Force made up, for the most part, of nations hostile to the United States, is a legitimate one. The U. N. is the toughest Soviet E. D. Kleider.

Walker has been a military man, a battlefield hero, and he feels it would be disastrous for the United States to disband the army he served all his life, as our present policy would require.

YOU MAY NOT AGREE with his concern on this or on his stand for states' rights. But whether you do or not, that is not the issue in the present Walker case.

While General Walker was engaged in what he considered was a patriotic mission in Mississippi, he was not engaged in what he considered was a patriotic mission in Mississippi. He was not engaged in what he considered was a patriotic mission in Mississippi. He was not engaged in what he considered was a patriotic mission in Mississippi.

Season opens here tonight

Bay Biloxi card

1st boxing event

The boxing season resumes in Bay St. Louis tonight with a 10-match card scheduled against Biloxi at the A and G Theater.

The event will get under way at 8 p.m. Buck Price, Bay Boxing Club coach, said a ring has been installed in front of the stage at the theater by removing about 40 seats and he expects the new arena will draw sizeable crowds.

Feature match of the evening will be in the 145 pound class between Larry Bilbo of the host club and Russell Biste of Biloxi. Two additional exhibition matches are pending.

This is the first of Bay Boxers listed first:

95-pound class—Donald Merquar, Jr., vs. Paul Tronczewski; 100-pounds—Joe Tate vs. Ansel Boone; 106-pounds—Johnny Favre vs. Steve Brunsard; 112-pounds—Mike Fayard vs. Wayne Kopasawa; 118-pounds—Robert Steffel vs. Larry Kostmayer; 125-pounds—Wayne Colson vs. Joe Guico; 135-pounds—Harvey Mitchell vs. Micky Konert; and T. J. Fayard vs. Forrest Rudolph; 140-pounds—James Watson vs. Tim Holloway.

Making their first appearances in the ring here will be Steffel, Colson, Watson and Fayard, the latter having boxed when the club went out of town last spring. Price reported he will be boxing one of his star performers, Ronnie Peterson, to the Marine Corps later this month. Peterson, Bilbo and Steffel all have signed up with the Leechesacks.

Capt. and Mrs. J. W. Clark attended dragon class races and awards dinner at the Southern Yacht Club Sunday.

To set the record straight . . .

WHY MISSISSIPPI POWER IS OPPOSING CONSTRUCTION OF A FEDERALLY FINANCED GENERATING PLANT & TRANSMISSION SYSTEM

Recent articles, news releases, and advertisements appearing as statements and releases by the president of South Mississippi Electric Power Association, a Federally-financed REA super co-op, have publicly attacked Mississippi Power Company for opposing construction of their proposed $16-million generating plant and transmission system. Power produced by this plant would be sold to four REA distributing co-ops who now buy their power at low wholesale rates from Mississippi Power Company and Mississippi Power and Light Company. They are Southern Pine, Dixie, Pearl River Valley and Singing River Electric Power Associations.

Mississippi Power Company has merely exercised its legal right to show before the Public Service Commission that public convenience and necessity will not be served by the proposed project. This issue is not just a legal matter but also directly involves the pocketbook and future well-being of every Mississippian and especially the consumers of the four REA distributing co-ops proposing to purchase power from the super co-op. Listed below are seven of many reasons why this project is unnecessary and, in fact, a waste of taxpayers' money. All REA customers and other thoughtful citizens should consider the facts carefully.

1. The proposed $16-million expenditure of taxpayers' money will not provide electric power to any person who is not now or who otherwise could not receive electric service.
2. The electric power produced by the super-co-op will cost much more, than the present cost of electricity purchased from Mississippi Power Company and Mississippi Power & Light Company, from whom the distributing co-ops have received all their electric service since they were organized in the late 1930's, and much more than such cost would be under current offers for continued purchase.
3. Service from the proposed plant will be far less reliable than that provided from the modern, high-voltage interconnected systems of the Mississippi Power Company and Mississippi Power & Light Company.
4. Taxpayers of the state and nation will have to lend the full $16-million to build the original plant and subsidize the cost of this loan by making up the difference between the two per cent interest the cooperatives pay the U. S. Treasury for loans and the four per cent it costs our Federal Government to borrow money with which to make the loan.
5. The super co-op has testified that if this first plant is permitted, additional funds will promptly and regularly be sought from the public treasury to expand this and other co-op facilities.
6. Under Mississippi law (Sec. 9700, Miss. Code 1942) this super co-op "shall be exempt from ad valorem taxes, and such association shall be exempt from franchise, privilege, net income and other excise taxes imposed by the State or any of its political subdivisions"; it is also exempt from paying sales taxes on what it buys, including equipment and fuel, to build and operate this proposed plant. (Sec. 10116). The taxpayers of Mississippi will have to make up the taxes lost by these exemptions.
7. Electric power is a necessary part of our daily lives and its availability in abundant and economical supply is vital to Mississippi's future growth and development. The REA super co-op, by its loan agreement and mortgage, has surrendered to the REA Administrator in Washington the right for him to approve or disapprove many of the most important aspects of its operation, such as its electric rates and selection of its management and supervisory personnel. The only jurisdiction the Mississippi Public Service Commission has over the super co-op is in granting permission to build the plant and transmission system. The rates of the super co-op to the member co-ops are not subject to regulation by any state or Federal regulatory body — but only by the Administrator. The same Administrator, appointed by the President, also has complete control over the availability of additional funds for the super co-op. Mississippians should keep to an absolute minimum the exposure to Federal dictation and interference in their affairs, both political and economic.

Bousberg's running aids Rock victory

The St. Stanislaus Rock-chaws played football in convincing fashion Friday night, downing Notre Dame of Biloxi 21-7 at Stanislaus Stadium in Bay St. Louis behind the clutch running of halfback Barry Bousberg. The victory earned the Rocks of Coach Billy Murphy a tie with St. Mary's of Vicksburg for the Mississippi Catholic Conference grid championship.

Stanislaus had to win the hard way, holding the Rebs twice from the Rockchaw one-yard line in the final quarter, and driving 99 yards with seven minutes to play to score the winning touchdowns. The game was a hard-fought struggle, much closer than the score indicated.

Notre Dame jumped to a 7-0 lead in the opening period, driving 54 yards to score with just over five minutes left in the period. A 39 yard pass-and-run play accounted for most of the yardage, and quarterback Sam

Boney scored from two yards out. Halfback Carl Galle added the PAT.

Fifteen seconds later the score was tied. Golden Jones returned the kickoff to the 47 yard line, then on the first play from scrimmage grabbed a short pass from tailback Darry Rhodes and outraced Rebel defenders for a score. Jones put the icing on the cake by booting the PAT.

Stanislaus controlled most of the remaining first half action, driving into Rebel territory to the 33, 30, and 16 yard lines before being stopped, once by an interception, once on downs, and again when Rhodes elected to punt into the end zone. The locals also recovered a fumble inside the Notre Dame 10, only to have it nullified by a penalty.

Notre Dame took the offensive in the second half, being gifted with Stanislaus fumbles. Recovering a loose ball on the 22, the Rebs were stalled by a James interception in the end zone, and punting on another fumble at the 30, Notre Dame again couldn't gain.

Loss in the third quarter and early in the final period, however, Notre Dame did drive well, going from their own 41 to the Stanislaus one before being stopped. The Rockchaws stopped Notre Dame twice from the one, and fullback Bousberg then turned into the game's hero when, on the first play after stalling the Rebels, he broke loose for 64 yards and a first down on the Notre Dame 35.

Paul Fausullo added seven yards but Bousberg took over again, and scored from 29 yards out on a nice run over the right side of the line, cutting to the outside. Jones again booted the PAT.

Rebels trip Hawks

Hancock North Central dropped their sixth defeat of the 1962 grid campaign Friday night in Long Beach, putting up a stout battle before losing to a good Harrison Central Red Rebel 16-6 in a Gulf Coast Conference game at Long Beach.

Coach Ezell Lee's team was in the game all the way, and trailed only 7-6 late in the third quarter.

The Rebels opened the scoring with a 25-yard run in the second quarter, and made the point after, ending the scoring for the first two periods.

Hank quarterback Edito Peterson got the North Central express moving in the third quarter, driving some good passes, and a 50-yarder which set up the Hancock County 11's only score of the night. Peterson made the score on a five-yard run.

Although the Hawks filled the air with passes in an effort to pull the game out in the final quarter, it was a Harrison Central pass which broke the team's back. Rebel quarterback Jerry Wilson connected for a TD pass which, along with the PAT, upped the lead to 14-6 and North Central just couldn't pull it out.

The Hawks have now scored in five of the six games played although not winning. The team gets a well-deserved rest period this week before returning to action Oct. 26 against the Pass Christian High Pirates. Their next home game on the calendar is Nov. 2 against Kern School, the 1962 homecoming game.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION OF STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 30

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION TO AMEND SECTION 203 OF THE MISSISSIPPI CONSTITUTION OF 1890 SO AS TO PROVIDE FOR A STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF NINE MEMBERS.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI, TWO THIRDS (2/3) OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AND THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN, AND AGREEING THERE-TO, That the following amendment to the Constitution of the State of Mississippi be submitted to the qualified electors of the state for ratification or rejection in an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1962, viz:

That Section 203 of the Constitution be amended to read as follows:

"Section 203. There shall be a state board of education to be composed of nine (9) members. One member of such board shall be appointed from each congressional district of the state as the same were constituted as of January 1, 1962, and one member shall be appointed from each supreme court district. In making the original appointments, the governor shall appoint one member from the northern district for a term of one year, one member from the central district for a term of eight (8) years and one member from the southern district for a term of nine (9) years; the attorney general shall appoint one member from the first congressional district for a term of three (3) years, one member from the second congressional district for a term of five (5) years and one member from the third congressional district for a term of seven (7) years; the secretary of state shall appoint one member from the fourth congressional district for a term of two (2) years, one member from the fifth congressional district for a term of four (4) years and one member from the sixth congressional district for a term of six (6) years. Thereafter all appointments shall be made by the governor and the term of office of all members shall be for a period of nine (9) years. The terms of office of all members shall commence on the fifteenth day of April of the year in which the appointment is made."

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the secretary of state is hereby directed to give the notice of election in the manner and for the time as provided by Section 273 of said Constitution, and a special election is hereby called and fixed to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1962, for the purpose of submitting this and other amendments to the Constitution to the qualified electors of this state for approval or rejection; said election to be conducted and held as provided by law for state-wide general elections.

Rock victory...

(Cont. from Page 11.) Rhodes picked off an aerial on his own 40 and returned 60 yards for the final TD. Jones made it a perfect night from placement when his boot went firmly between the uprights, and although the Rebs got as far as the Stanislaus 18 with time running out, it was too little and too late. The Rebels cut first-downed the Rocks, 6-3, and unofficially the locals had a 263 yard total offense compared to 188 for Notre Dame. Jones, Rhodes, Nickle Kingston, and Boasberg all ran especially well for Murphy's charges, and Larry Fee, Curtis Mathern and Mike Mathburn were among the top defensive performers. Friday night Stanislaus resumes action with a game with Assumption High in Napoleonville, La. The Rocks now are 2-2.
